RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

University of Florida

University Scholars Program Researcher

Mar. 2026 - 2027

- Selected for UF's competitive University Scholars Program as one of 200 students campuswide; awarded $1,750 to extend older-adult outcomes research into advanced dementia and palliative-oriented nursing care.
- Conducting 8-10 hrs/week on a rapid review of palliative-oriented nursing care for hospitalized patients with advanced dementia, emphasizing assessments, interventions, communication, and care coordination.
- Mapping identified care practices to NANDA-I, NOC, and NIC terminology to improve EHR visibility, standardized documentation, and analysis of underrecognized nursing contributions.

Hospital Readmissions Review

Jul. 2025 - Present

- Collaborated with a 5-member team to screen 50+ articles on predictors of hospital readmissions among older adults and identify relevant studies.
- Co-developed inclusion/exclusion criteria and analyzed current evidence to support predictive model development.
- Contributed to discussions on transitional care interventions and recommendations to reduce geriatric readmissions.

Standardized Nursing Terminology Mapping

Oct. 2024 - Apr. 2025

- Mapped nursing procedures from local hospitals to NANDA, NOC, and NIC standards with a 10+ member team, reviewing and aligning 200+ interventions and goals.
- Supported nursing informatics work to strengthen clinical communication, data interoperability, and EHR integration.

Missed Nursing Care Review

May 2025

- Screened 60+ articles with a 4-member team, focusing on quantitative measurement tools and methodological rigor; coauthor of accepted peer-reviewed manuscript.

Johns Hopkins University Summer Program Student and Researcher

Jul. - Aug. 2023

- Completed physician-taught coursework in anatomy, organ transplantation, trauma/triage, anesthesia, comparative anatomy, emergency services, and healthcare roles; participated in pig dissection, suturing, and triage labs.
